

Straits Financial LLC

Sales & Marketing Associate

Location: Chicago, IL

Straits Financial LLC, a licensed Futures Commission Merchant, is seeking sales staff to promote its Futures products including new Exchange listings, the Asian futures markets, Commodity Trading Advisor managed and pooled accounts, electronic platform execution services and inventory financing.

Responsibilities:

- Develop valuable relationships with current and potential new customers.
- Promote the Futures markets throughout the Straits organization and to the general public via direct marketing including, web mail campaigns and other social media sources including a weekly newsletter.
- Prepare and give PowerPoint and other presentations including constructing and delivering webinars.

Candidate Skills/Requirements:

- Strong interpersonal and communications skills including telephone, e-mail and written documents. Must know the Microsoft suite of products: Word, Excel, PowerPoint, etc.
- Basic understanding of world financial markets with emphasis on Futures and Commodities. Work experience in the Futures industry or related industries a plus.
- Self-motivated, self-starter with a high level of dependability, organization, and attention to detail. Candidate must be able to work independently and efficiently multi-task in a fast-paced environment.
- Candidates with their Series 3 Futures license will be preferred. The license is not required for those candidates with related industry experience for initial employment but candidate must be willing to study and pass the exam within the first two (2) months of employment.
- Light travel may be required.

This is an excellent opportunity for candidates seeking to start or re-start their career.

Compensation will include a base salary plus a sales bonus and all standard firm benefits.

Check us out at www.straitsfinancial.com

Send Resume and Cover Letter to hr@strait5.com